

AGENT OF THE YEAR

Suzanne has called Bedford, Massachusetts, her hometown for over twenty years. Since she can remember, she has had a passion for the homes in the surrounding area. Her passion is what led her to be awarded the Agent of the Year, for Keller Williams Framingham's office. This most prestigious award is given annually to the top producing single agent who best exemplifies strong leadership within the real estate community. As a single agent, Suzanne produced more than any of the 70 other realtors in the Framingham's office. Another qualification for this award is that she must also be active in community affairs while promoting a positive image of the real estate industry as well as earning the respect of fellow Realtors. She must also display the highest degree of unquestionable integrity and moral character with associates, clients and the public.

Suzanne has been assisting others with their housing needs for five years now. In her first year of selling homes, Suzanne also earned the Rookie of the Year award, and has been awarded various other honors for her outstanding career.

Suzanne's strive for excellence is evident in her graduation from UMASS Amherst with honors. In the past five years, she has sold over 100 homes and a majority of those sales came from referrals from her satisfied homeowners.

When Suzanne is not busy finding the perfect home for someone else, she is busy with her fiancé renovating an historic home in Bedford. Lately you can also find her volunteering with "THIS OLD HOUSE" giving tours.
